THE BIG EARTHQUAKE OF '68

Some Reminiscenses of California's First Big Shaking Up---The Velocipede in Town

At the meeting of the local Masonic Lodge on the evening of January 1st, 1869, officers for the year were installed as follows: S. M. Cook, worshipful master; A. Teague, senior warden; D. G. Leary, junior warden; T. W. Lathrop, treasurer; H. N. Nutting, secretary; N. Dennis, senior deacon; S. Bornstein, junior deacon; James Allfrey and C. M. Wagner, stewards; Fred Koch, tyler. After the installation ceremonies a handsome Past Master's jewell was presented to T. W. Lathrop, who had served the Lodge as its Master during the preceeding three years. After the close of the meeting the brethren adjourned to the American House where an elaborate banquet was served.

Our First Big Shake

Ranking but little less in the severity of its shocks and the duration of its disturbances—though far less disastrous in its results—than the memorable catastrophy of April, 1906, was what had always been referred to by pioneer residents of California as "the great earthquake of '68," which occurred on the morning of October 21st, 1868, a few minutes before 8 o'clock. Like the later disaster, this great quake was a succession of shocks, continuing at intervals of gradually diminishing frequency for several weeks, leaving an impression on the minds of those who underwent the terrifying experience that remained vivid for a number of years, and from some of which it has even yet not been entirely effaced.

While in this city there was no loss of life, the damage to property was severe, both public and private buildings suffering considerable damage. The most serious of the consequences in this county was the damage to the courthouse building, the upper story of which was practically demolished, and the entire building rendered so dangerous that it was necessary to vacate it and establish the county officials in private buildings. While the lower portion of the walls were not badly injured, the upper portion was badly cracked and sprung outward so as to be entirely separated from the rafters and floor timbers. For a time an effort was made by the Supervisors to devise some plan to restore the damage and place the entire building again in condition for use, but no architect could be found who would take the responsibility of advising such a plan and it was finally determined to reduce the building to a one-story structure, which was done two months later. To accomplish this the walls were demolished to the height of the first story and the roof lowered to its new position.

Among the business and residence buildings of the town the damage was also severe. Dr. Merrill's brick building, which had been built but a short time, lost all its fire walls, the brick being tumbled outward. When the outer walls fell they carried with them the wooden awning and completely blocked the entrance to the place as well as blockading passage along the street. The stoppage of the travel on the sidewalk, however, proved to be of but little inconvenience as for several days people preferred to take the middle of the street rather than risk the constantly anticipated danger of a repetition of the severe shock, of which they were reminded by frequently recurring tremblors. While comparatively few houses in this county were seriouly injured but few structures escaped at least some slight damage. Brick chimneys were badly wrenched and in many instances their tops were twisted of.

That the damage in San Francisco was slight as compared with the great disaster of 1906 was probably due in a large measure to the fact that there were at that time no tall buildings—a three story structure then being one of unusual height. There were however several fatalities in that city—four white men and two Chinamen being killed by falling walls—while the damage to property was immense, the loss being estimated at not less than $5,000,000. The portion of the city which suffered most severely was that lying below Sansome street, being on was knows as "made ground," the portion of the city reclaimed from the bay by filling in with sand taken in leveling the hills.

The shock perhaps was even more severe on the eastern side of the bay. At San Leandro the courthouse was completely wrecked, Deputy County Clerk Joselyn being instantly killed by the falling debris. At Haywards a large new brick warehouse was reduced to a shapeless pile of ruins.

At San Jose the fire walls of many of the brick buildings were thrown into the streets. Chimneys were wrecked, plastering was badly cracked, and dishes and household g... crept strewn about the floors, while stocks of goods were shaken from the shelves. Business in all of this section was practically suspended during the day, while people flocked the streets afraid to reenter their homes. Many of the stores remained closed for the day, the proprietors not daring to enter their places of business.

One man is San Jose, the proprietor of a mercantile establishment of considerable size, spent a goodly portion of the day endeavoring to find a buyer for his business. offering to sell the stock at 25 cents on the dollar and throw in the fixtures and, as he expressed it, "the d--d little goodwill I have got for such a place as this," but he could not find a buyer. This same man went without a meal from the time of his breakfast, which he had eaten a short time before the shock—and which had eventually been disposed of after the manner incident to a fit of seasicknees, resultant from the shock—until after 9 o'clock in the evening before he could be induced to take the risk of entering a restaurant. Even then he insisted upon being accompanied by one of his clerks, a native born Californian, and being served at a counter near the front door, where he ate standing up and ready to run at the first premonition of a shake. After hurriedly disposing of the meal he returned to the street, where he remained during the entire night. In fact it was nearly noon the next day before he could be induced to enter the store and began the work of picking up the goods which had been knocked from the shelves.

New Machine in Town

The arrival of the first of the original predecessors of the now common bicycle in Redwood City is thus chronicled in the issue of the Gazette of March 27th, 1869: "The Guyasticuta Come.—Just after the arrival of the late train on Thursday evening an unusual commotion was noticed on our streets which plainly indicated that something was up. Eager for an item, we prepared to find out the matter as quickly as possible by rushing furiously into A street, when lo and behold there spead the animal down the sidewalk with a young man astride, followed by a crowd of astonished and delighted boys, men, women and children, hooting and screaming. We recognized the critter at once as a veritable 'velocipede.' It was soon straddled by several of Redwood City's gay young men, who were each in their turn flopped by the refractory animal. Different from most riding animals, it does not kick up but kicks down flat on its side. The boys have got their velocipede dander up however at last and we expect to see some 'tall time' made before long on the wooden-iron horse."

Elks Work for Charity.

The San Mateo Lodge of Elks will give its annual minstrel show on Feb. 7th and 8th and it promises to be a corker. The talent that is going to waste in the lodge, says the Times, is something frightful, and so it has determined to utilize it in the doubly good turn of entertaining the public and providing for the needy by what is known as the"empty stocking fund."

It will be remembered that the minstrel show given by the Elks last year proved one of the most diverting entertainments of the season and drew a crowded house. This year they will appear in Hart's theatre, in their club building.

The talent will be local. It is estimated that not less than forty members of the lodge are capable of doing stunts, among whom are the brethren of Redwood, including A. D. Walsh, Guy Hull, Johnnie Johnston, L. B. Thomas and others who will contribute in song and dance and humorous acts. The attendance from Redwood will be a large one.

THEY NEVER FAIL

That is What They Say About Them in Redwood City, and It is Therefore, Reliable.

Another proof, more evidence, Redwood City testimony to swell the long list of local people who endorse the old Quaker remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this convincing endorsement of that remarkable preparation:

John F. Benedict, 204 Heller street, Redwood City, Cal., says: "My back was so lame that I could scarcely get up or down and there were sharp pains over my kidneys. Often I suffered so severely that it was almost impossible for me to move. The kidney secretions were unnatural and passed so frequently that I was unable to rest well. Having Doan's Kidney Pills recommended to me, I began their use and they proved to be the best kidney medicine I had ever tried. During the past eight or ten years, I have had no serious trouble from my kidneys, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Whenever I take them, they benefit me."

Warning to Chauffeurs

The following is taken from a New York paper. It would be well for local chauffeurs to peruse is carefully.

"Driving recklessly William Darragh, chauffeur, ran down and killed a thirteen year-old boy on a New York street. On June 4th Darragh was sentenced to imprisonment for not less than sever years. The statute under which he was reached reads:

"The killing of a human being, unless it is excusable or justifiable, is murder in the first degree when committed by an act imminently dangerous to others and evincing a depraved mind, regardless of human life, although without a premeditated design to effect the death of any individual.'"

The judge who sentenced him said: "The next man who comes to the bar of this court charged with this offense may pay the penalty with his life'"

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

Don't forget the public meeting to be held at the Alhambra next Friday evening. At that time the purposes of the proposed city bond issue and its necessities will be explained by those thoroughly familiar with the importance of the projects Every person interested in the future welfare of Redwood City should attend this meeting.

We Need a New City Hall

Redwood City needs a new Town Hall, needs it badly and needs it now. For so many years have we been accustomed to plod along without even the barest conveniences for the transaction of our city's business that there are possibly many people who fail to realize the full force of this need We have become so accustomed to having the offices of the city officials scattered over various parts of the city that perhaps many fail to recognize both the inconvenience and extravigance resulting from the lack of such a building. As much or more as a matter of economy and convenience to ourselves as from a matter of civic pride, we need such a building.

The sum estimated as the cost of a suitable City Hall by the Trustees ($15,000(is a small one, and the tax payers of the city can well afford the investment. As a business enterprise it will well repay the cost in the saving of expense in the transaction of the business of the city. As a matter of civic pride it will prove a paying investment.. From either point of view there should be no hesitancy in endorsing the proposal to issue bonds for this purpose.

That a proper building in which all the city officers can be housed under one roof will prove both a matter of convenience and economy will be seen from a moments consideration. Frequently it must occur that people have business to transact with the city and are not certain as to which one of the officials to apply. In a case of this character it is more than probable that the officer first visited will prove not to be the proper one. In that case the person, probably with but little time to spare from his own urgent affairs, must travel several blocks in search of the official to whom he has been directed. Also it frequently is the case that it is necessary to see two or more of the officers before the business is completed, and in this event is certain that visits to two or more different places more or less widely separated must be made. In either event business which should have been disposed of in a very few minutes has occasioned the loss of much valuable time to the citizen and taxpayer, worth much to him in dollars and cents—certainly far more than could be off set by a possible slight increase in taxes at some future date. Equally is the present method expensive to the city for the conduct of its business. With the officers separated as at present it is impossible for one officer to render assistance to another, or even for one person to act as assistant to more than one official. Thus if it is necessary that the Clerk should have assistance of a stenographer and help of the same character is necessary in the office of the town attorney, as must often be the case, it is impossible for one person to do the work for the two, and hence it becomes necessary to employ two assistants where under other circumstances one person might well do the work of both, thus making a material saving. As an example of this, attention might be called to the fact that but a few weeks ago, in the collection of the assessment for the improvement of the streets in Dingee Park, it was necessary in order that some person always be present to receive payments to employ an assistant for the Marshal. This involved a very considerable expense, practically all of which might have been saved the tax payer had the offices been in the same building. In such items as these the saving in cost of the transaction of business at least would go far towards paying the interest upon the bonds required for this purpose.

That the building of a suitable City Hall would prove a paying civic investment no thinking person can question. There is every reason to believe that this city is about to reach a time when it will be offered unusual opportunities for development. A public building presenting evidences of municipal prosperity will do much to awaken the confidence of the prospective investor. By this means we will show to the world that we have at least confidence in ourselves and our city. It is almost safe to make a certain prediction that within a year from the time the building is completed it will have resulted in an increased valuation of the property in the city more than equaling its cost.

Under the bonding plan proposed by the Trstees there can be but little increase in the rate of taxation The saving in the cost of the transaction of the business of the city will at least go far toward the payment of the interest on the bonds, while their gradual retirement over a period of 40 years will at no time require an appreciable increase in the levy. By all means let us vote for the issuance of the bonds and take our place as an up to date city

Prize Fights are Illegal.

There is now pending before the Board of Supervisors of this County an application by one Sid Hester for a permit to conduct "prize fights" in this county. There is also pending before the said Board a petition of certain reputable citizens of this county asking that the permit to Jimmy Coffroth be revoked.

These two applications raise the question of the right of said Board to grant "prize fight" licenses or permits.

Section 412 of the Penal Code of this State makes "prize fighting" a felony, but permits "sparring exhibitions" to be licensed by City Councils, or supervisors of cities and towns only. We are advised and believe that no County Board of Supervisors can legally grant a prize fighting permit or license, or even a license for a "sparring exhibition," the authority under the statute being limited to incorporated cities and towns. It would appear if this is law and there seems to be no doubt of it, that the application of Sid Hester should be denied, and the license of Coffroth be revoked, as there is no question but that all contests in this county "pulled off" at the Coffroth Arena in the North end, have been clearly prize fights and not sparring exhibitions.

"PAT" ON THE BUILDING AND LOAN PLAN.

O, Mollie dear, and did you hear
The news that's going round?
Out in the Redwood City Annex
The nicest place I've found.
And every time I gaze into
Your Irish eyes of blue,
I want to whisper, "darling girl,
I've got a home for you."

O, Mollie dear, and did you hear,
I've built a bungalow?
Five cozy little rooms and bath,
Enough for us you know.
Three hundred down and eight a week
We'll soon be out of debt;
It's all complete except we have'nt
Seen the parson yet.

O, Mollie dear, and will you hear
What else I have to say?
I have ten shares of stock
All safely stored away
In the B. & L. of San Mateo Co.
Stock is as good as gold;
Our little home to it we'll owe,
And happiness untold.

Several of our people are agitating a plan for the incorporation of the town. Nothing definite has as yet been determined as to the proposed limits of the new municipality.

There is much dissatisfaction among certain Colma residents over the distribution that has been made of the electric street lights in the new "Colma Lighting District." The Boulevard and County Road are well looked after—too well looked after in fact so the people of Colma say. The Crocker, Mission and Vista Grande tracts are well lighted, but through design or mistake the persons who marked the location of the lights on the map of the lighting district officially adopted by the Board of Supervisors have practically left the residents of the Castle Tract, City Extension Homestead, Scho l House Extension and Abbey Homesteads in darkness. It is needless to say that the people in these tracts are indignant and justly so. They are up in arms, and intend taking steps to see the wrong done righted, and to have their localities as well illuminated as other portions of the lighting district They pay heavily in taxes for ligths and they intend to have them or know the reason why they are deprived of them.

Woodside Happenings.

Now comes Portola to the front to vie with San Mateo along the Ernest Thompson Seton line, and sticking as close to the barnyard with its story of animal adventure. The country place of J. A. Hooper a wealthy lumberman, located in the foothills, was at one time covered with a magnificent growth of redwood trees. In years past they were ruthlessly cut for lumber, leaving a number of ugly stumps scattered about the ranch in some cases partially ottedr away. One such stump and a blooded Jersey cow were responsible for a deal of excitement on the Hooper ranch last Sunday. Curiosity led the cow to the top of the stump by means of an inclined plane of earth on one side, but in a few moments bellows of dismay were heard, the rotten wood having given way, dropping the cow into a tight fitting and impromptu stall composed of the sides of the stump. A rescue gang armed with axes, saws and crowbars, liberated "Bossie,"none the worse, except for a lame leg, after a hard afternoon's work.

Frank Gray, wife, W. E. Dougliss and Walter Knight went to the Turlock district last week and have returned. They are interested in a large tract of land there which they are selling in small farms. The land is very rich and is irrigated It is selling rapidly, being bought up by eastern farmers who are making large fortunes in the big crops they are getting. The property has advanced three fold since it was purchased some time ago by Mr. Knight and others.

Omnius Pro Bono Publico.

The Redwood City Water Company made a six day test of its new pump last week, pumping into the new concrete reservoir on the Dingee heights. The pump was built by the Byron Jackson Iron Works, of Berkely, upon a guaranteed capacity of 400 gallons per minute, and during the six days test above mentioned it delivered an average of 409 gallons.

The company has an order placed with the same firm fo ranother pump, to be installed in the early part of next month, and with another firm a second 10 x 12 air compressor, to be installed in March. This will give the company a duplicate plant and insure the city against any possible shortage in the water supply, and in case of fire a certainty of 600 gallons per minute under 80 pounds pressure.

Recognizing the value of the improved water service and fire protection guaranteed thereby, the Board of Fire Underwriters have addressed a communication to the Mayor and the several fire insurance agents of this city announcing its willingness to re-rate the business risks of the town at an early date. Verily the City of Redwood is improving along all lines that make for the public weal.

CRIMINAL CHARGE TO DETERMINE CIVIL LAW

Grand Jury Finds Indictments as Means of Securing Decision of County Deposit Act.

BANK OFFICERS ARE VICTIMS

Treasurer and District Attorney Also Accused---Plea for Submission to Civil Courts is Ignored.

The grand jury on Wednesday brought indictments against Dr. J. L. Ross, president of the First National Bank, and L. P. Behrens, cashier, and accusations against P. P. Chamberlain, treasurer and J. J. Bullock, district attorney. The following day the jury brought in an accusation against justice of the peace W. G. Loveland of San Mateo. The bankers were charged with violating the County and Municipal Act and Mr. Chamberlain is accused of depositing money in the First National Bank without collecting 2 per cent interest and J. J. Bullock for failing to institute a suit for the collection of the same.

It is a matter of regret that the grand jury should have gone so far as to bring indictments and accusations against men who stand so well in the community and whose motives are above reproach. We think the question of collecting the 2 per cent interest could have been settled in some tribunal to the satisfaction of all The question is a much mooted one in which lawyers differ. The district attorney insists that a suit to recover the 2 per cent interest can not be maintained successfully in court

It does seem to us that the grand jury could have thrashed the matter out in a court of justice and avoided the harsh measure it has resorted to.

The First National Bank through its attorneys, Ross and Ross, has done everything in its power to have the whole matter adjusted. Geo. C. Ross has gone to the board of supervisors on three different occasions to make suggestions that might have settled the difficulty had he secured a hearing before that body

At the meeting on January 17th he was present to present a resolution and communication asking the board to appoint some attorney to act to bring the question into court but the Supervisors were compelled to adjourn owing to the absence of Supervisor Casey.

A portion of the communication reads as follows:—

I would also suggest that the attorney to whom this question is submitted be a lawyer like Honorable A. L. Rhodes, formerly chief justice of the Supreme Court, or Honorable S. F. Lieb, formerly judge of the Superior Court of Santa Clara county; or, if you prefer an attorney who has had civic experience select such a man as Honorable William R. Davis, formerly mayor of the city of Oakland, or Honorable Beverly L. Hodgehend, present mayor of the city of Berkeley. Or, if you had rather be guided by a lawyer who has had experience with banking and bonds, choose such a man as Honorable C. H. Garoutte, formerly justice of the Supreme Court, and late State Bank Commissioner; or Honorable Curtis H. Lindley, president of the state bar association and now special counsel for the board of supervisors of the city and county of San Francisco in its bonds and water matters. Or if you prefer to have a choice made for you by a lawyer of the first class ask Honorable U. S. Webb, attorney general of this state to recommend to you some lawyer in whom he has confidence.

The supervisor who prepared and offered the resolution must believe of course that the county can succeed in the suit mentioned or he would not have presented the resolution for adoption. Very well. I therefore now further say that if you will submit said resolution and question to any one of the attorneys mentioned, or to any lawyer selected by attorney general Webb, and his opinion thereon is Yea, that a judgment for such interest can be obtained in favor of the county,then I will be personally responsible for, and pay, the fee charged by such lawyer for his service in giving you his opinion.

Is not the foregoing fair?

Let us have light.

Yeors respectfully,

GEO. C. ROSS.

The following communications were also presented.

To Mr. Geo .A. Kertell, Foreman, Mr. J. H. Hatch, Secretary, and the members of the Grand Jury of the county of San Mateo.

Gentlemen:—

The rumor being prevalent that it is the opinion and wish of your honorable body that the question of the liability of P. P. Chamberlain, county treasurer, for interest on money deposited by him in certain banks, of which this bank is one, and also the liability of such banks to the county for interest on deposits,should be ascertained and legally determined at an early day, and this bank also desiring to have such matter settled now begs leave to inform you that it has joined with the treasurer in a communication to the board of supervisors as follows:

"To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of the county of San Mateo:

"Gentlemen:—

"The undersigned having been informed that it is the wish of the grand jury now in session that the question of the liability of the undersigned treasurer and bank to the county of San Mateo for interest on deposits made by such treasurer in said bank be definitely ascertained and determined, do hereby respect fully request that your honorable body adopt the enclosed preamble and resoutions, or take some other proper course which will settle the rights and liabilities of the county, the treasurer, and said bank.

"Yours very respectfully,

"P. P. Chamberlain, County Treasurer.

"The First National Bank of San Mateo County,

"By J. L. Ross, Its President."

)Copy of Preamble and resolutions sent Supervisods.(

"Whereas, a resolution was heretofore offered by the chairman of this Board directing the District Attorney to commence a suit against P. P. Chamberlain, County Treasurer, for the recovery of interest claimed to be due from him to the County, under the provisions of an Acta of the Legislature providing for and regulating the depositing of county) and municipal money, (Statutes of 1907, page 974); and

"Whereas, the District Attorney thereupon advised the Board that in his judgment the Treasurer was not liable to the County for such interest; and

"Whereas, the Grand Jury of the County has expressed its desire to have action taken in accordance with such resolution, notwithstanding the adverse opinion of the District Attorney, and it may be that the District Attorney is mistaken;

"Now Therefore, in order that the rights of the County may be fully [illegible] the wishes of the Grand Jury complied with, and the question of the liability of the Treasurer, or any bank in which he may have deposited any money, to the County for interest be definitely determined and settled,

"It is hereby Resolved and Ordered, that Honorable U. S. Webb, Attorney General of the State of California, be, and he is hereby, requested to act s in conjunction with the District Attorney in said matter on behalf of the County, and that if in his opinion the Treasurer or any bank in which he may have deposited any county money is liable to the County for any interest and that a judgment can be recovered against the Treasurer or any bank therefor, then that the Attorney General and District Attorney bring suit against the Treasurer and such banks for such interest and costs; and the District Attorney is hereby specially directed to confer with the Attorney General concerning said matter; and

"Resolved, that in the event the Attorney General shall not be able, by reason of his engagements or other cause, to so act, that he, Mr. Webb, be requested to select and name some fit and competent attorney-at-law - to act in his stead on behalf of the County, and that the person so selected and named be, and he is hereby, employed by this Board on behalf of the County as special counsel in said matter."

This bank further says that if the method provided in said resolutions is not satisfactory it invites the ssuggestion of your honorable body as to what course should be followed to fully and legally settle this wholei imatter of interest, and trusts that it may hear from you on the subject.

Yours very respectfully,

The First National Bank of San Mateo County, By J. L. ROSS, Its President.

January 25th, 1910.

To Mr Geo. A. Kertell, Foreman,Mr J. H. Hatch, Secretary, tand the Members of the Grand Jury of the County of San Mateo.

Gentlemen:—

In order to definitely settle the question whether or not the county should receive interest upon its moneys deposited by its treasurer in banks, and despite my opinion heretofore given, that an action for the recovery of interest could not under existing conditions, be successfully maintained, I beg leave to inform you that at the next meeting of the board of supervisors I will suggest and advise said board to employ such counsel as they may deem fit or the attorney general, or such counsel as the attorney general may select, in the event of his inability to act, to co-operate with and assist me in the prosecution of on action in court to determine the entire matter.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH J. BULLOCK,

District Attorney.
